

I am opposed to allowing further consolidation of media companies. Every economist knows that competition in the marketplace is the best way to guarantee that consumers can make the best choices for themselves, and that when an industry is dominated by a small number of producers, consumers lose. This most basic principle applies to the media as well as any other industry. Extensive public hearings on the rule changes must be conducted before any changes are implemented.